

TTI, Inc. announces Felix Corbett as Director of Supplier Marketing, Passives and Discrete Products, Europe

Experienced industry figure to spearhead sales drive for new products into wide customer base

January 2011 - TTI, Inc., the global distributor of Passive, Interconnect, Relay & Switch and Discrete components, has announced experienced industry figure, Felix Corbett as its new Director of Supplier Marketing, responsible for Passives and Discrete Components in Europe.

Commenting on his new role, Corbett says: "With the enormous growth TTI experienced last year, the company decided to look at how best to use its resources. My job is to work closely with our passive and discrete component supplier partners, helping to introduce their latest products and technologies to our wide customer base. To ensure this is successful I will be working closely with our major branches all across Europe."

Corbett joins TTI from Abacus Avnet. Previously he worked for Panasonic and Arrow, so he is highly experienced in both distribution and manufacturing. "We have high expectations that 2011 will be another very successful year for the European electronics industry and we are taking a very proactive approach to ensure that we have a major share in that success", he adds.

About TTI, Inc.

TTI's philosophy is "Lead by Design", and the company differentiates itself by focusing on people, parts and process. TTI, Inc. is a specialty distributor of passive, interconnect, relay & switch and discrete components. The company has developed a policy in Europe of being the distributor of choice for customers and suppliers alike by introducing new product technologies from key supply partners to its customers - and by stocking broad and deep across its franchise base. TTI also operates sophisticated inventory management processes which ensure that it has the ability to service changes in component demand due to fluctuating markets and supply chains.
