2. Description of News

We would like to inform you about a duplication of several Han® hoods and housings. These parts will be produced in Zhuhai (China) in addition to other production facilities in Europe and the United States. This duplication will be done to reduce the lead time to our Asian customers and expand our worldwide production capacities.

3. Implementation

Starting March 3rd, 2025, Asian customers will be supplied with parts produced in China. The technical characteristics and of course all quality characteristics of the concerned parts produced in China are going to be identical to other production locations.

Identification of production location is indicated on the packaging.
