2. Description of Changes/News

As part of continuous improvement for our products, we have modified the central locking lever of the Han B series. The sizes of Han 6B, 10B, 16B and 24B are concerned.

We improved the shape of the actuating handle, which can now be operated even more easily by hand. The remaining geometry of the central lever and its space requirement during operation are unchanged. The material continues to be stainless steel.
