TO: Customers who may concern

FROM:

HEREWITH YOU ARE INFORMED OF OUR PLAN TO STOP PRODUCING SOME MOV PRODUCTS.

DESCRIPTION:

Dear Valued Customer, Thank you for your long-standing trust and support in our products. We highly value our partnership with you and remain committed to providing you with high-quality products and services.

Based on our ongoing assessment of market demand, we regret to inform you that due to the continuous decline in market volume for certain specifications, factory material preparation and inventory management have become increasingly burdensome. To optimize resource allocation and ensure the stability and efficiency of our overall supply chain, after careful consideration, our company has decided to officially initiate the EOL process for the specific MOV products listed in the attached document.

To ensure a smooth transition for your business, please find the relevant arrangements detailed below:

1. Scope of Discontinued Products Please refer to the attached document, "List of Discontinued Products", for the specific discontinued models and specifications.
2. Effective Date This notice takes effect immediately.
3. Handling of Unfulfilled Orders Existing accepted orders will continue to be fulfilled as agreed until all contractual obligations are completed.
4. Recommended Alternatives We understand that this change may impact your business operations. To minimize any potential disruption, we are pleased to recommend alternative products with similar performance characteristics and provide necessary technical support to assist you in completing the transition. Should you require assistance, please do not hesitate to contact our sales or technical support teams.
5. After-Sales Service For products already delivered, we will continue to provide after-sales service and support according to the original terms until the agreed service period expires.

We sincerely apologize for any inconvenience this EOL announcement may cause. This strategic adjustment is intended to allow us to focus our resources on product lines with broader market potential, enabling us to continue providing you with superior, stable products and services.

We sincerely appreciate your understanding and support, and we look forward to maintaining our close cooperation with you in the future.
